LIGHT SHED BY GRAND JURY THROWS SHADOWS OF SHADE Insane Asylum Sufferers Drink From Tomato Cans and Sleep on Old and Rotten Floors.

THINGS NEGLECTED BY LOCAL GOVERNMENT Closing of the Night Schools Declared to Have Been Unwise--Women Physicians Recom- mended for the Examination of School Girls--A New Prison Is Needed.

The Territorial grand jury yesterday afternoon made its report to Judge Gear, and is herewith published in full.

Secretary L. Tenney Peck read the general report, as Foreman Prince David Kawasakaon was afflicted with a bad cold.

Judge Gear in thanking the grand jury for the work it had done, spoke in the highest terms of the report. He spoke of the jury as a "grand" jury, praising the good work done by the sixteen men, thanking them sincerely as judges of the court.

Judge Gear expressed it as his wish that the newspapers would print the report in full. The judge also thanked the grand jury for the public in general, approving the suggestions of the body as to the Territorial Insane Asylum as well as in the matter of trivial offenses being brought before the jury, adding that the fault lay in the fact that the present punishment of such offenses did not fit the crime, and by their high penalties called for indictments.

The trouble was, said the judge, that the laws were not made according to the Constitution of the United States and the matter should be altered at the next legislature.

Judge Gear said that the members of the grand jury had done their work so well that he thought it would be advisable for the clerk of the court to keep a list of their names in a convenient place so that the same men might be drawn for the next grand jury.

There was a general smile of appreciation on the part of the jurors at these words of praise, but there were also murmurs of "No, no," from the same sixteen, who evidently did not relish the suggestion.

The judge asked the members of the grand jury to become missionaries to carry through a repeal or modification of the present law and seconded the jury's favorable opinion of Attorney General Cathcart.

The grand jury was then dismissed for the remainder of the term.

The report of the grand jury, in full, is as follows:

Honolulu, Oahu, T. H., Oct. 24, 1901.

Honorable George D. Gear, Second Judge Circuit Court, First Judicial District, Territory of Hawaii.

Sir: The grand jury assembled and sworn and charged before you on the 10th day of September, 1901, having concluded its duties, beg to submit herewith the following general report.

The Deputy Attorney General has brought to the attention of this grand jury 71 cases all of which have been carefully considered, and in 40 cases true bills of indictment have been found and returned to your honorable court, and as to the balance of the cases numbering 22, no bills have been returned, as the evidence adduced was not deemed sufficient to warrant conviction on the respective charges preferred.

Pursuant to the general instructions contained in your charge, the grand jury has seen fit to inquire into the conduct of various Territorial institutions, as well as into the administration of certain functions of the Board of Health and of the Department of Public Works, and in connection therewith beg to report further, as follows:

HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE.

The visit of the grand jury to the Territorial Insane Asylum was made on Monday afternoon, October 7th, at half past 1 o'clock. The jury was met by the recently appointed superintendent, Dr. R. M. Malster, who is also resident physician, and accompanied by Mr. Kilby, the assistant superintendent, proceeded to inspect the buildings and grounds, and the methods of management as far as the limited time at its disposal would permit.

The location of the asylum is well chosen, the summer heat being tempered by cool winds from the near by mountains. The grounds are well shaded and neatly kept and the various buildings standing detached about the lawns are also kept in orderly condition and the general appearance of the institution is to be commended.

The Rock Crusher.

To the rear and back of the men's wards, though in the asylum grounds, stands a large stone-crushing plant, owned by the Territory and operated by the Department of Public Works. The rock used to feed the crusher is quarried from the adjacent hillsides, being blasted in large masses from the main ledge, and reduced by subsequent blasting by giant powder to the proper size for further reduction by the crusher. After passing through the machine it is elevated and screened into assorted sizes and stored in bins whence it is hauled off and used by the Street Commissioner.

The continuous rattle of the revolving screens is distressing to many of the patients, and the blasting of the rock is not only an additional cause of distur-

KAPIOLANI ESTATE WINS ITS LAND SUIT Jury Is Out All Night and Yet Is Full of Music.

NOVEMBER TERM'S BIG CALENDAR PRESENT FIRST CIRCUIT COURT TERM ENDS ON NEXT MONDAY.

Judge Gear Orders Orphan Property Sold At Auction--John II Estate Case On--Supreme Court Sits and Adjourns.

After having been housed at the Hawaiian Hotel all night the jury in the case of the Kapiolani Estate against E. Peck & Company, Limited, were returned to the jury room yesterday morning to continue their consideration of a verdict.

The jury arrived at a verdict at about 9 o'clock, but for some reason the verdict was not immediately ushered into the presence of Judge Gear.

Having nothing further to do, and feeling time hanging heavy on their minds, the twelve good and true men broke forth in song, from sheer gladness of heart. The sweet strains of "Aloha Oe," the catchy refrain of "I Want You My Honey, Yes, I Do," and the inspiring notes of "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight," and other popular songs, sounded loud and clear from the jury room, until the police came and asked them to leave their cage and take to the court room.

Foreman Austin handed the written verdict to the clerk of the court. It was in favor of the Kapiolani Estate, and the jury recommended the restoration of the lands involved.

Exceptions were noted and notice of motion for a new trial given by the attorneys for the defendant.

The action was brought for possession of certain parcels of land at Kapiolani, Honolulu, comprised in Land Commission Award 10,463 to Napela, being Apana No. 1, containing 1 1/2 acres and Apana No. 2, containing 35-100 acres. Plaintiff claimed title in fee simple by purchase. Summons was issued by Judge W. L. Stanley on June 30, 1900.

Kinney, Ballou & McClanahan and J. L. Kaulukou appeared for plaintiff, and Castle & Weaver, J. T. De Bolt and Andrews, Peters & Andrade for defendant.

Many of the points involved in the case which has just come to a close after almost ten days of hearing and argument, are identical with those in the two pending cases of the Kapiolani Estate against W. R. Castle et al, and against L. A. Thurston. The verdict in the Kapiolani-Peck case, however, does not necessarily influence these cases.

The trial of the case of the John II Estate, Limited, against R. Kahinu Mele was resumed yesterday morning, continuing the greater part of the day.

The November Term.

It appears that there will be something in the neighborhood of a hundred cases on the criminal calendar for the November term of the First Circuit Court.

This large number of cases will be handled by Judge Humphrey and Judge Gear, and there is just the possibility, it is said, of a third judge sitting.

The numerous indictments of the Territorial grand jury will be responsible for the large calendar, together with the accumulation of appeals from the district courts during the last few months.

Criminal cases will be taken up first at the November term. There will be a long list of civil cases to be handled as well.

On Monday next the present term comes to an end. A few days will then elapse before the beginning of the November term.

Sale of the Orphan.

Judge Gear has ordered the sale of the Orphan property under foreclosure on Saturday, November 16, an order having been filed in the case of Charles S. Deaky against the Orphan property, limited, to the effect that the property described in the decree be sold at auction on November 16, by J. P. Morgan, to the highest bidder for cash, and out of the money received from such sale the plaintiff herein shall retain the sum heretofore decreed, with interest.

Court Notes.

An order has been issued by Judge Gear to Jonathan Shaw, guardian of the estate of Evelyn Nichols Bidwell, who was made a sole devise under the will of John Nichols Bidwell, deceased, to show cause why he should not turn over the property held by him as such guardian, Evelyn B. Nichols, described in the will as Evelyn Nichols Bidwell, having come on the 5th of October. Hatch & Stillman are attorneys for petitioner. Master's report in the matter of the estate of Benjamin E. Stegmann was yesterday approved, the court allowing master a fee of $20.

MINOTON-CLAIN WEDDING. Couple Quietly Married at the Catholic Church Last Night.

W. M. Minoton, who is connected with Gear, Lansing & Company, and formerly of the firm of Campbell & Minoton contractors and builders, was married last evening at the Catholic Cathedral, to Miss Jennie McLain, the popular young school teacher well known in Honolulu.

The wedding was strictly private, only a few intimate relatives being present. The ceremony was performed by Bishop Gulstan according to the Catholic rites. The marriage will be kept a secret to many friends of both parties, the engagement has been kept very quiet.

MOONLIGHT RIDE. Epworth Leaguers Enjoy a Delightful Evening at Young Bros. Island.

About fifty young people from the Epworth League of the Epworth Methodist church enjoyed a pleasant moonlight ride about the harbor yesterday evening in Young Brothers launches. The start was made from the city boat landing, and the shipping district of Honolulu was inspected under the soft rays of a beautiful tropical moon. The itinerary included the skirting of the waterfront from Railway wharf to the Pilot house. At the conclusion of the ride, the guests were taken to Young Brothers Island, near the lighthouse, where the remainder of the evening was given over to sociality, games and refreshments.

RECEPTION AT LOVE RESIDENCE LAST NIGHT A MOST DELIGHTFUL GATHERING IN HONOR OF YOUNG LADY VISITORS.

Misses Dennis, Mabel Jones and Effie Church, Friends of Miss Stella Love, Meet Honolulu People--Large Party of Young Folks.

One of the prettiest and most novel social affairs of the season was the reception at last night by Mrs. Fanny Love in honor of Miss Stella Love, Miss Mabel Jones and Miss Effie Church, the young ladies from Portland, Ore., who are visiting Miss Stella Love. The Fort street residence of Mrs. Love was a most charming and artistic appearance, over a thousand Japanese lanterns being utilized in the decorations and an extravagant profusion of flowers and greens abounding everywhere.

The archway at the entrance of the driveway was a perfect bower of the subdued illuminations, the gay lanterns being half hidden among the trailing green vines, and leading up to the residence two long lines of the pretty illuminations were suspended from the trees which led to the right, twinkling softly through the shrubbery and foliage, were hundreds of the festive globes.

In the grounds adjoining the house a large platform had been erected for the occasion, that the guests might utilize the torchlight art, and to this purpose a quintette club played merrily the rhythm of two-step and waltz from a bower of greens on the west lawn. The platform was completely surrounded with potted plants, and ferns, and a double circle of Japanese lanterns hung from the trees above to softly illumine the scene. The uncertainty of the weather had been taken into consideration, and a large canvas had been hung over the pavilion, high in the branches of the trees.

The residence itself was an exemplification of genius in the decorations. In the center of the drawing room was a great bank of marigolds, and a net across one side of the room had caught and held prisoners a shower of the bright blossoms. Garlands and sprays of mums were suspended from the chandeliers, the paintings, bric-a-brac, and from the arches over the door hung great clusters of ferns and flowers. The lanterns were gay with foliage and flowers, and a Japanese lantern placed here and there completed a most beautiful picture. The moonlight vied with the pretty illuminations in brilliancy, and a very merry crowd of young folks tripped lightly to the sweet strains of the native music, enjoying the witchery of a perfect night out-of-doors.

There were about a hundred and fifty guests present. At the entrance to the drawingroom stood the receiving party, consisting of Mrs. Fanny Love, Miss Stella Love, Mrs. Clarence Cooke and Mrs. Annie Montague Turner, and the young ladies in whose honor the reception was given, prettily gowned in dainty organdies of delicate evening colors, gracefully acknowledged the alohas extended as the guests were presented to the hostess.

Later refreshments were served by pretty Japanese girls in their picturesque native dress, and it was toward the small hours before the dancing platform was deserted and the guests bade their hostess and her friends goodnight. The young ladies from Portland were entirely charmed with the delightful reception given them, and their memories of Hawaii

THE NEW PASTOR GREETED HIS FLOCK

Christian Church Welcomes Mr. and Mrs. Muckley.

ADDRESS OF WELCOME TO MINISTER

MR. TEMPLETON GIVES A SKETCH OF MR. MUCKLEY'S LIFE.

Introduction and Greeting Listened to With Attention and Interest--Program of Hymns and Quartet Songs--Ice Cream and Cake.

The Rev. E. S. Muckley, new pastor of the Christian Church, and Mrs. Muckley, received a most cordial welcome last night from the congregation and friends of the church, a public reception being accorded under the direction of a number of ladies of the church. The Rev. Mr. Muckley came at the call of the church, to succeed in the pastorate, the Rev. A. E. Cory, who lately resigned his charge to enter the foreign mission field in China.

The church was prettily decorated with palm leaves and trailing sprays of mums, and vases artistically placed about the pulpit, organ and tables, were filled with fresh flowers. Mrs. Swinton, Miss Boardman and Mrs. Dan Logan had been assigned the duty of decorating and the pretty appearance of the Alakoa street church last night was a credit to these ladies.

The receiving party, consisting of Mrs. W. K. Arhill, Judge and Mrs. Galbraith, Miss Edith Perkins, W. M. Templeton and Mrs. W. C. Woodson, stood near the door as the guests entered, presenting the members of the Christian flock and their friends to the new pastor and his wife. Mrs. Muckley was prettily gowned in white, and carried a cluster of cream roses. She acknowledged the greetings of her new friends very graciously, and left an impression of graciousness and sociability. The new pastor also impressed his congregation very favorably, being at once kindly and dignified. Mr. and Mrs. Muckley had been in Montefiore, Ohio, where the minister has been occupying a pastorate for the past two years.

In an address of introduction and greeting when the church had filled with guests, W. M. Templeton gave a sketch of the new pastor's life and work. Mr. Muckley was born near Canton, Ohio, his early years being spent on a farm, and on the farm he received the sturdy discipline which helped him to his success. He had attended in his labor in the profession of his choice. He taught school before reaching the age of seventeen, and he followed teaching until he decided on the ministry as his life work. He was matriculated at Bethany College near Wheeling, W. Va., having completed the theological course prescribed by that institution, graduating in 1890. He began his ministerial duties in the pastorate of a congregation at Beaver Falls, Pa. His next field of labor was in Kansas City, Mo., where he remained over four years, during which time the church had a remarkable growth and erected a handsome church edifice. His next ministry was for the church in Watertown, N. Y., where he remained for four years. From there he went to Bellefontaine, Ohio, where he took charge of one of the leading churches of the place, remaining there until he received the call to Honolulu. Mr. Muckley is a young man of strong and commanding physique and with the thorough training with which himself and his wife are equipped for their chosen work, and the pleasing personalities of both, success is assured them in their new field. This was expressed by Mr. Templeton in his address, and the younger minister responded briefly for himself and Mrs. Muckley, thanking Mr. Templeton and those present for their kind words and welcome. He extended his own and his wife's aloha, and expressed the hope that they would not disappoint the high expectations evidently cherished by the congregation.

An informal program of hymns and quartette songs was given, and the reception broke up into informality over a dainty collation of ice cream and cake, served by Mrs. Alex. Templeton and Mrs. John Hill. Mrs. Dan Logan and Mrs. Dr. Monarrat, the committee on refreshments, assisted by a number of young girls of the church.

Mourning Comes Down.

All of the crepe about the Capitol will be taken down today, and the flags will be raised to half mast the thirty days of official mourning for President McKinley having expired.

The flag on the water tower of the Capitol has been condemned and will be taken down today. It will be replaced as soon as possible by a new pole.

Included in yesterday's police arrests were Joe Rehazo, treasurer; Manuel Souza, proprietor; H. Taylor, bartender; J. Eberidge, common nuisance; Lam Yak, treasurer; Ali Yok, larceny in the second degree.
